"My plane is a complex machine. Safely navigating the airspace requires quick access to information about engine systems, traffic, weather and more. I cannot imagine flying a plane without instruments, it would be chaotic!

Similarly in running my law practice, I need quick access to information about the performance of my business. Needles gives me the gauges and controls that allow me to communicate to my team and ensure my business is operating smoothly. Without Needles, you're flying blind!"

Publisher's Note

Welcome to the results of The Legal Intelligencer's fourth annual "Best Of" poll where our readers have cast their votes for the best providers of products and services to the legal community.

The survey was conducted in August, and was sent via e-mail to readers of The Legal Intelligencer. The ballot consisted of over 50 categories encompassing legal support, business, and lifestyle products and services. Hundreds of our readers took the time to participate and voted not only for the companies listed in the survey, but added a significant amount of write-ins as well.

We thank everyone that participated in the survey. Your choices for The Best Of 2013 are reflected on the pages that follow, with a listing of the top three vote getters in each category. If you do not see your favorite firm listed this year, please make sure to vote next year. We will continue to work on ways to improve this program and we welcome any feedback.

The Power of Professional Relationships

Investors today face complex legal, tax and investment decisions that no single professional can help them address. That is why we form strategic relationships with other advisors to collaborate on designing customized wealth-management and estate- and retirement-planning strategies. This cooperative approach can benefit our clients and help you to enhance your own client relationships. Such a relationship with The Dunn Group will enable you to:

- Provide your clients with cross-disciplinary services that they would otherwise have to piece together from separate providers
- Give your clients access to a team of trusted advisors who collaborate for their benefit
- Expand your practice by offering a robust range of financial products and services
- Support all your clients' wealth management needs

The Dunn Group has deep local roots: Before their distinguished college careers, Pat Dunn attended Villa Maria Academy and her son, Paul, St. Joseph Prep, both in the Greater Philadelphia area. This community connection, combined with more than three decades of wealth management experience, makes the team an invaluable collaborator. Together we can craft seamless strategies to guide clients toward their goals.

When your client has enough to worry about,
you should take the initiative:

Call IAB first.

Fires, storms, floods and other disasters hit fast, hard and without mercy. If your client's property is damaged or completely destroyed, every second and every dollar counts.

Your first call should be to IAB.

Damage needs to be assessed and documented properly. Your client is being told to clean up, but will valuable evidence be discarded? Our experience as public adjusters enables us to help you protect your client's interests as we manage the complex process of the insurance claim.

We'll fight to obtain the settlement your client deserves – the maximum settlement – in the minimum amount of time.

Insurance companies move quickly to protect their interests. You should be proactive—and preemptive.

Your client will thank you for it.
